REFERENCES:

1. The sketch in the referenced report is substantially correct, except that there are ten buildings instead of nine. The group of buildings is correctly positioned relative to the launching complex, but the road is not drawn correctly.

2. Each of the ten buildings appears to have three drive-in entrances capable of accommodating large vehicles.

3. These buildings are somewhat similar in general appearance to the two drive-in buildings of late construction at Istra, but the buildings at Istra are smaller and have only two doors.

4. The ten buildings have not been accurately measured, but preliminary crude measurements are 350' x 150'.

5. As requested in your requirement, detailed analysis of the photography will not be undertaken until additional instructions are received from your office in the form of a new requirement.

6. The pictures referenced above are enclosed.
